Speed up Service!

Take customer service to the next level with your very own iOS and Android mobile app integrated with your PlusPoint POS environment in your restaurant and bar

Place orders directly on the device
As patrons or guests place their order with the waitron, the order is sent in 'real-time' to the kitchen or bar, making service a breeze and increasing revenue potential and delivery times

Order instructions are sent to requisition printer
Enter orders and continue service without returning to your physical order station as they are automatically sent to the appropriate printer station for preparation...

Collect and serve - orders processed more efficiently
Once the orders have been taken at any number of tables, orders should be ready for collection when the waiter returns to the station - or you could have runners delivering from the order stations
